1. About This Important Report

In today's digital-first world, Google Customer Reviews are critical for moving companies to build trust and attract new customers. A staggering 93% of consumers read online reviews before making a purchasing decision, and businesses with higher ratings and more reviews dominate local search rankings. For a moving company, where trust and reliability are paramount, strong Google Reviews can mean the difference between winning a new customer or losing them to a competitor.

2. McGuire Moving and Storage: Current Google Customer Reviews

Metric	Data	Status
Current Number of Google Reviews	110	Needs Improvement
Google 5-Star Score	4.4	Needs Improvement
Last 30 Days: New Google Reviews	1	Needs Improvement

A successful moving company should aim for at least 150+ Google Reviews with a 4.7+ star rating to stand out in local search results. Consistently gathering reviews after every job builds credibility, improves rankings, and reassures potential customers.

>Recommendation: Consider using ProWeb's Easy Reviews program to effortlessly collect Google Reviews in 30 seconds (or less) after each job.

3. McGuire Moving and Storage: Responding to Your Google Reviews

Metric	Data	Status
Currently Responding to Reviews?	Yes	Needs Improvement
Response Rate	85%	Needs Improvement

Responding to 100% of Google Reviews (both positive and negative) shows customers you value their feedback and builds trust. A low response rate can make a business appear disengaged.

>Recommendation: Automate and streamline your review responses with ProWeb's Response Pro, using AI to ensure every review gets a professional reply.
